

Dipto Chakravarty

CHIEF PRODUCT OFFICER

As chief product officer, Dipto Chakravarty leads Cloudera's overall product and technology direction. Most recently, he served as the head of data engineering in Amazon's generalized artificial intelligence organization. Prior to that, he led AWS's cloud practice for four years. Before Amazon, Dipto held executive positions at CA, IBM, Novell, and Thomson-Reuters and founded/led three private equity-backed businesses with exits. He has twelve patents issued to date, has authored two books, and has served on the board of software companies. Dipto holds a bachelor's and master's degree in computer science from the University of Maryland and completed the General Management Program at Harvard Business School.